There were many drunks in town Monday. Policeman Turner made it hot for them, however, and "run in" several cells full.

If you don't receive your copy of THE RECORD report the fact, and Uncle Sam will see about it. He's mighty clever about such things.

A black horse mule, six years old, slit on left ear, left my house Saturday night. Reward for return to Geo. Austin, Lancaster. sep-12-2t

Books Now Ready.
The city tax books have been placed in my hands, and I am ready to receive taxes. Pay them now, as a penalty will be added later on.
S. D. Turner.

Last Service.
The last preaching service of the Methodist church Sunday morning. A large gathering of Methodists is expected.

The Lancaster delegation had a special coach to Louisville this morning. It was secured through the efforts of about the only genuine hustler in town, John Farra.

The public room at the Garrard Hotel has been papered and the iron posts encased in handsome wood-work. This is a decided improvement. The house is being painted and papered from top to bottom.

Must Die.
Leon Czolgosz, the Anarchist, was found guilty of murder in the first degree, and will be electrocuted. His lawyers will waste no time in appealing the case.

Preaching Sunday.
Rev. Allen R. Moore will return and fill his pulpit at the Christian church Sunday morning and evening. His meeting at Mill Creek has been quite successful.

Collier.
B. F. Collier, one of Garrard's most widely-known citizens died at his home near here Saturday. He was in his eighty-eighth year. The remains were buried at the Lancaster Cemetery.

For Sale.
I offer for sale my residence in the town of Lancaster, Ky., on Lexington avenue. Persons desiring to purchase can examine the property.
W. O. Bradley.

Time to Sow Wheat.
Mr. H. A. B. Marksbury says: To avoid the ravages of the fly, would advise not sowing until Oct. 15th. Have your ground thoroughly prepared and commencing at this date you can soon plant your wheat.

Lumber, Laths, Shingles, Etc.
We have on hand 40,000 feet seasoned oak boxing and fencing. A car load of laths and cypress shingles. Plenty of extra good ceiling and flooring. Prices right.
R. G. Ward.

Christian Endeavor.
A business meeting of the Christian Endeavor is called for seven o'clock Tuesday, the 1st. A full attendance is requested, as business of importance is to be transacted. Will S. Embury.

Cheap Rates to Lexington.
The L. and N. will sell round trip tickets to Lexington, account of the Kentucky Horse Breeders Association. Tickets on sale Oct. 7th to 18 inclusive. Final limit Oct. 19th. Reduced rates.

Every Second Monday.
Dr. Hobson, the dentist, will be at the Garrard Hotel every second Monday in each month, fully prepared to wait on customers. If you want up-to-date work, done in the best possible manner, see him.

Seed Wheat.
H. A. B. Marksbury & Son's car of northern seed wheat has arrived, and test 64 to 66 pounds to the bushel. We have several varieties of home grown seed wheat, screened and splendid, for sale. Get your seed wheat now.

Get Posted.
Do not think that if you come to see my Fall and Winter goods that you are under obligations to buy, for you are not, but come and post yourself about the styles, so you will know what to buy when you do get ready.
J. C. Hemphill.

A Wild Goose.
Policeman Mat Siler has a wild goose, or rather a "tame" wild goose, which has attracted much attention. Mat brought it from the South. It feeds and runs with the chickens. A wing was "cropped" and it cannot fly.

In Session.
The District Convention of the C. W. B. M. will convene this morning at the Christian church. The hours will be from ten to twelve in the morning, two to four in the afternoon. Dinner will be served to the delegates and visitors at the church.

For Sale or Rent.
The house and lot of Mrs. Osee Bush. Nice property. The house is a two story frame building and is situated on Richmond street in Lancaster, Ky. For terms call on or address,
W. I. Williams,
9-17-4t Lancaster, Ky.

Low Rates to Minneapolis.
One fare round trip Queen & Crescent Route, October 7, 8, 10 and 12th, account National Convention of the Christian Church, finest service in the south. Be sure your tickets read via this line. Ask ticket agent for particulars. W. C. Rinearson, G. P. A.

Contest.
The annual contest composed of representatives from the public schools Garrard county will be held in Lancaster, October 25th, under the management of Miss Amanda Anderson. Two medals will be given, one for the best boy and the other for the best girl speaker. Ages from 11 to 17. tf

Successful Season.
Many have already called on Jennings & Hughes to have their measures taken for suits and overcoats. They are delighted with the quality and prices of the goods, which are sent out by three of the best tailoring houses in the nation. Fits guaranteed. Office over police court room.

Coal.
We have kept you cool this summer and if you will permit us will keep you warm this winter. We make a specialty of Straight Creek coal but will handle genuine Jellico, and other coals. Blacksmith coal especially, requires no charring.

H. B. Northcott.

Buy in Lexington.
Stanford Journal: Mr. W. P. Walton has bought a handsome home on Third street in Lexington and will move his family to it about the middle of November. He will of course continue to run the Harrodsburg Democrat, which is already proving a good thing financially and otherwise.

A Fair at Crab Orchard.
The Interior Journal says there is a probability of a fair being held at Crab Orchard next season. It seems that this would be a good idea, as the place is easy to get to, has all the accommodations necessary and would draw a tremendous crowd. There is a good track and grounds there. Push it along.

Lawyers and Editors.
A lawyer in court may call a man a liar, scoundrel, villain, or a thief, and no one will make a complaint when court adjourns. If a newspaper prints such reflections on a man's character there is a libel suit or a dead editor, says the Aurora Bulletin. This is owing to the fact that the people believe what an editor says.

Telephone Rings.
"Hello!" "Is that the mill?" "Yes!" "Send me 1 sack of feed and 2 bushels of chicken feed!" "All right!" Customer goes to his barn and finds his feed in box O. K., and says that is nice, and that much is nice, but that much and no more don't buy cash wheat. Call at the office. Kindly, Burnam & Rucker.

A Big Stock Pen.
After court day, the Public Square was about as dirty a mess as ever seen. Between the stock and watermelon eaters, the street was left in a condition that would compare with the dirtiest pig sty. We thought it was the intention of the authorities to set apart a place to keep stock on public days, but the law is now disregarded.

Lancaster is "Home."
Louisville Times: Former Governor W. O. Bradley is well pleased with the manner in which he has been treated by his brother lawyers of the Louisville bar. It is likely that Gov. Bradley will make his future home in Louisville, though he still claims Lancaster as his voting place. The Governor, by the way, is not in accord with the local Republican machine.

Moved to Cincinnati.
Stanford Journal: George A. McRoberts has bought out Mr. Stoltz, of the firm of Eggleston and Stoltz, wholesale box makers of Cincinnati, and will go over in a few days. The firm name will be Eggleston & McRoberts and they will make a specialty of boxes for the drug trade. Their many friends here will give Mr. and Mrs. McRoberts up with much reluctance.

The Drys Nominate.
A number of prohibitionists were doing considerable hustling around Monday, and we learn that they nominated the following partial ticket for county officers: Jno. Ison, representative; P. S. Terrill, county judge; R. A. Stone, county clerk; O. J. Hendren, assessor; Cyrus Eason, jailer. The following were named as candidates for magistrate: O. T. Wallace, Wm. Christopher and Morris Callico.

The Surveyors.
The corps of Southern Railway surveyors have reached a point near Mt. Vernon and pitched camp. They have passed the point where the Danville line joins our's and are now taking out a few kinks on the line on into Jellico. By the way, Mr. Wells, the chief engineer, is liable to drop into Lancaster most any day, and the citizens should make some plans to entertain him, and show him the county. He has doubtless been pumped full of hot air about Garrard being far behind some of our sister counties, and he should be given a peep at our resources. Now, don't say this is some "More of THE RECORD's idle gab," and forget this, for it may be regretted ere many moons wax and wane. THE RECORD knows what it is talking about, a few gas bags to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Supt. Hood in Town.
Col. Louis Hood, superintendent of the K. C., was in town Monday for an hour or so. He tells us the company has been spending much money on the Rowland branch and endeavoring to give us up-to-date accommodations. Mr. Hood is one of the best business men in the service. He has a world of responsibility on his shoulders, but he keeps matters moving along smoothly and systematically. He is one of the few railroad officials who take time for a personal chat with a friend, and is one of the most sociable gentlemen we have ever had the pleasure of knowing. We have had occasion to tell him many troubles for the people of Lancaster, and while he has not seen proper to grant all requests, yet he has never refused to grant a respectful and patient hearing. If the final "say" was with him we would get many more favors from the Ellen N.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

TO THE CITIZENS OF GARRARD COUNTY:

At the practically unanimous demand of my own party and urgent solicitation of other friends, I have at last consented to become a candidate for the office of County Attorney on the Republican ticket.

I had not expected to again ask for the suffrage of my fellow-citizens, but in view of the great number of electors, regardless of their party affiliation, who have seen proper to insist on my nomination, I have, with some reluctance, consented to accede to their request.

In thus again asking the citizens of my county for their support for this, one of the most important offices in the gift of 1st people, I am not unmindful of the fact that it is an office fraught with the gravest responsibilities and duties, it having not only an important influence on the maintenance of peace and good order throughout the county, but is also perhaps, the most important factor in shaping and controlling the amount of taxes that your Fiscal Court finds it necessary to levy on your property each year to meet the current expenses of your county affairs.

And in this connection, I hope I may be pardoned for referring with some pride to my former administration of this important duty during the term I had the honor to occupy the office, and when, after my repeated assaults on all useless extravagance, and on certain most time honored leaks in your county treasury, the levy necessary to meet all the current expenses of your county, and then leave a handsome surplus in your treasury at the close of the year, was less than one-third, barely more than one-fourth, of the amount of each and every successive levy for county purposes made since my retirement from that position.

And since the late decision of the Court of Appeals that the Court of the city of Lancaster no longer has jurisdiction to try whisky cases, and with blind tigers not only flourishing throughout the county but, with their Government Licenses all over the corporate limits of Lancaster, actually boasting of their dispensing to your sons, each and every week, three barrels of whisky and over two thousand bottles of beer, with the county attorney being hereafter practically the only safeguard to prevent their extending their sphere, and running even wider open than now,—this office is of even greater importance than ever before to such of our parents as wish to protect their boys from this most vicious and destructive influence, and it well behooves them to make no mistake in selecting and deciding who shall hereafter say whether this condition of things shall continue to exist.

With a high conception of the duties of this office, with a higher conception of my obligation to my own and my neighbor's sons, having steadfastly during the twenty-two years of my law practice refused to defend the keeper of a blind tiger, nor in the thirty-nine years of my existence taken a drink of whisky, if honored again by your election to this high trust, I pledge you, that whatever of experience, ability or talent I may possess, shall be exerted to so administer its important duties as to not only encourage and promote peace and good order and a strict obedience to the law throughout the county, but also to prevent any and all illegitimate, improper and unnecessary drains and expenses on your county treasury.

Fearing that pressing business engagements, and the limited time left for my canvass may prevent my seeing each of you personally, I take this method of announcing my candidacy and assuring you that if my candidacy meets with your approval, I shall be very grateful for whatever assistance you may render toward promoting my election. Respectfully,
Aug 19 tf. W. McC. JOHNSTON.

CENTRAL RECORD.

— An Independent, Local Newspaper. —
ISSUED WEEKLY.

LOUIS LANDRAM, Editor and Publisher.

Lancaster, Ky. Sept. 26th, 1901.

"LIVES" of William McKinley, written respectively by Alexander McClure, Murat Halstead and Charles Grosvenor, are not only being offered to, but urged upon the people, says the Louisville Times. And yet the body of William McKinley has not been returned to earth. The mottoes of commercialism are "Put Money In Thy Purse" and "Make Hay While the Sun Shines."

ALL honor to the Louisville business men, who are putting forth every effort to develop the state. Kentuckians should do all in their power to assist these hustlers. What's their interest is our interest. They are not only hustling for Louisville's welfare, but the up-building of the entire state. Lend them your aid by patronizing their enterprises.

In all his business life, which he began at a salary of $500 a year, Secretary Gage was never discharged and never sought a better position than the one he occupied. All his promotions came to him unsolicited. He was evidently born under a lucky star. It takes all kinds of hustling to get a job these days, to say nothing of getting a "raise."

THE Kentucky distillers have agreed to limit next year's production to twenty-seven million gallons. Now if they could only be induced to improve the quality, they would do a good turn by the thirsty public. All most of the whisky made today could be used for is to sand-paper houses with.

THE woman is to blame again. It was a woman's handkerchief in which Czolgosz's hand was wrapped when he shot the President. If the woman hadn't given him the handkerchief he would have had no way to conceal the weapon. So it goes.

OUR old friend Saph Campbell, of the Somerset Journal, has we are delighted to learn, recovered from his recent illness and is back on the tripod. He sends out one of the neatest and best papers published in the state.

THE Lexington Leader says "Drink water freely and often, it is food and medicine." If the Leader thinks it will convince the average Lexington man of its assertion, it will find it on a cold trail.

THE Massachusetts Frog Company has been organized with a capital of $5,000. They will have to get more money than that before the public will toady to it.

"HAVE you a sense of fullness in the stomach after eating?" inquires a patent medicine advertisement. Where else the fullness could be felt is hard to say.

OLD brother Schley is the only hero in the public's eye, and the more his enemies fight him the greater he becomes.

MUCH is being said of "Freedom of speech." What is needed is more freedom of rope.

BOURNE.

Gilbert Turner sold 11 hogheads of tobacco last week for 51c.
Albert Church sold some corn to Job Marsee for $2.25 per barrel.

R B Marsee, of Marksbury, spent Sunday with Messrs James and John Turner. Messrs J E Sherrow and Ed Owens spent Wednesday in Harrodsburg. There will be a picnic at Scott's Fork church the first Saturday in October, given by the Sunday school scholars. All are cordially invited to attend, bring a basket of lunch. We expect a good time.

C W Mitchell is visiting in Mason county, and other places. Charles Forbes and Mr. Barnes, of Madison county visited C M Mobley. Sam Duncan and wife visited Mat Folger and attended Sunday school at Stone. John Sparks is very ill with typhoid fever.

BETTIS.

Miss Jennie Pollard and Sue Sutton, of Marksbury, spent Saturday night with Aggie Bourne. Kinnaird Bourne spent Sunday in Stanford. Mrs. Martha Leak has returned from a visit to friends and relatives at London. Rev T L Coleman spent a few hours with Mrs. Am Bourne, Monday. Ed Arnold, of Danville, spent Sunday with his brother, T M Arnold, at this place. Cleveland Bourne, who was so unfortunate as to receive a severe kick from a colt, has been confined to his bed for several days, but is now improving slowly.

The supper at Pleasant Hill, was in every way a success, and among the many nice baskets was Miss Fannie Austin's, which was sold for the most. We thank Mr Turner for his kindness. The neat sum of $20 was made.

Little Ruth, the bright daughter of Mr and Mrs Mose Adams, died on Sunday night. It is hard to part with one so young in years, but we know she was too pure and sweet for this world, and that God has called her to be a little angel in the great beyond. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

Sid Darling, 1012 Howard st., Port Huron, Mich., writes: "I have tried many pills and laxatives but DeWitt's Little Early Biscuits are far the best pills I have ever used." They never gripe. F P Frisbie.

Beauty may have no real advantage, but it catches the floating vote.

A never failing cure for cuts, burns, scalds, ulcers wounds and sores is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A most soothing and healing remedy for all skin affections. Accept only the genuine. F P Frisbie.

When you want a modern up-to-date physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at McRobert's drugstore.

A pretty girl who wears a perpetual smile may be jolly, but the monotony is something fierce.

Many physicians are now prescribing Kodol Dyspepsia Cure regularly having found that it is the best prescription they can write because it is the one preparation which contains the elements necessary to digest not only some kinds of food but all kind and it therefore cures indigestion and dyspepsia no matter what its cause. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Holloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by R E McRoberts, druggist.

NOEL SISTERS.

Where the Home PEOPLE Have Visited.

Dr W S Beazley is in Louisville this week.

Mr Fred P Frisbie is in Cincinnati selecting his Xmas goods.

Charlie Phillips has been very sick with pneumonia at his father's.

Mrs. Denton, of Somerset, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W H Kinnaird.

Mrs John M. Logan has returned from a pleasant visit to Covington relatives.

Messrs. J C Thompson and R L Jennings are in the city purchasing fall goods.

Mrs. Juliet Rogers and handsome son, Joseph, are in Cincinnati for a few days.

Mrs. Frank Bacon and baby, of Louisville, are guests of Mr and Mrs. Jno. Anderson.

Misses Fannie and Bettie West are spending a few days with friends in Louisville.

Miss Kathleen Dooley, of Lexington, Kentucky, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Dooley.

Rev. and Mrs. Eklar, of Vanceburg, are guests of Mrs T D Chestnut and Miss Sallie Lou Myers.

Mrs Leonidas Robinson and her mother, Mrs Sparks, leave this week for a visit to Nashville.

Mrs. G S Gaines and daughters, Misses Julia Mae and Nannie, of Danville, were visitors here Thursday.

Mrs Mollie Swope, of Indianapolis, and Mrs W S Moberley, of Knoxville, have been with relatives for a few days.

Al. Warren represented the Lincoln Democrat Monday. He takes to newspaper work readily and is making a success.

Shelby Tribble, of this office, made a business trip to Richmond, Saturday. He had time enough to see his folks and wink at his best girl, however.

Mr. J M Logan returned Saturday night from the East, where he purchased great quantities of goods for the Logan Dry Goods Co. Watch his ads and see the many good things they have to offer.

Mr. H M Ballou, who has been in bed most of the summer suffering with a stomach trouble, is, we are glad to say, able to be back at his store. He says he feels a little weak yet, but is gaining ground. He looks much better.

Stanford Journal—Senator George T. Farris and Hon. R H Tomlinson, of Lancaster, passed through to Casey Friday afternoon. They shook hands with several thousand people, more or less, at the Maccabee picnic at Liberty Saturday.

Judge William McKee Duncan, a member of the Louisville bar, was here last week to see his sisters and brothers, whom he has not seen for several years. He once resided here and was one of Lancaster's most prominent lawyers.

Now, Mr. Hunter,

Dove shooting is here. We have the celebrated Winchester Blue Rival Shell, loaded with Dupont Nitro Powder, which we will sell, as long as they last, for 50 cts a box.

You will do well to engage your supply in advance, as you cannot get these shells anywhere else at that low price.

Frisbie's Drug Store.

Harry Tomlinson has entered Lexington Business College.

Mrs Lella Bettis, of Bardstown, is visiting relatives in this city.

Miss Nora Phillips, of Stanford, is visiting her sister, Mrs Cal Nevius.

Mrs Tram Conn, of Missouri, is visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs Joe Arnold.

Mr Chas H Pollard, of Corbin, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs Sam Pollard.

Miss Katie Hood is again with her aunt, Miss Emma Hood and will enter college.

Mrs R F Scott, of Vernon, Texas, is visiting her parents Mr and Mrs J. Tram Conn.

Miss Bella Arnold has returned from a delightful visit to Miss Hemphill in Nicholasville.

Miss Mollie Spainhower has accepted a position at the telephone exchange in Lexington.

Mr Todd Scott and daughter, Miss Lucy, have taken rooms for the winter at the Garrard Hotel.

Miss Florence Darnall, who has been Miss Florence Harris' guest, has returned to her home in Maysville.

Mrs K. Colston, of Middlesboro, mother of Hon. Dave Colston, is visiting her daughter, Mrs W B Moss, of this city.

Dr Al Price, of Stanford, who has been visiting his mother, near Lancaster, returned home Monday, much benefited by his vacation.

A little surprise was given Mr. J. E. Stormes Monday evening. It was his 'steenth birthday, and his wife, knowing his aversion to any kind of 'show' decided to prepare a bountiful supper and only have two of his best friends to help devour it. Mayor Bob Kinnaird and ye editor were the fortunate guests.

They went to Mr Stormes' store about six o'clock and informed him they were going to supper with him. "Well, if you think you can find anything to eat up there, come on," he replied, thinking the matter a joke. We found something to eat, no mistake. The supper was elegant, and what Bob and the editor did to it was a bountiful sufficiency. Bob says he wishes John would have a birthday dinner every week, and its needless to say what an editor thinks on the subject of a square meal.

Our sanctum was honored last week by a call from Mr W M Bogle, of Owensboro, who, with his wife was visiting at Mr W H Wherritt's. Mr Bogle is agent for the L. & N. at Owensboro, a position of great responsibility. He has been with the road for many years and stands at the top notch with the officials. He is a christian gentleman and one of the best business men in the employ of the L. & N. road. It was he who tried to beat in our little hard cranium the importance of sticking to business, when we were a little dirty-faced boy, but we were at that age when we knew more than any business man in America. He gave us a start in the railroad, but pettycoats crowded out all ideas of business, and that's why we are on short grazing today. Mr Bogle has many old friends in Lancaster, and his visits are greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr W. H. Pope returned home from Indiana last week, where he had been visiting his brother, Elijah. He says there is a scarcity of farm labor in that state, the many factories giving employment to the men.

Ed Walton was here Monday looking after the interests of the Interior Journal, which is one of the best papers printed in the state. Ed can get around and see more people in less time than any man we ever saw. He's a natural hustler.

Mr J Joseph returned Monday night from Cincinnati, where he had been observing the Jewish holidays and day of atonement. We know of no one who lives up more closely to his religious belief than does Mr Joseph. He is a splendid man in every way, and a citizen that is a benefit to the community. No one does more charitable work than he.

Mr Ike N Arnold, an old Lancaster boy, was here from his home in Mackville, Monday. For some time after leaving here he conducted a blacksmith shop, but is now running a large implement business. Ike has established a fine business, and we are glad to say is in good shape. He was our school-mate, and his visit was greatly enjoyed.

Square dances come handy when there isn't enough to go round.

Brain-Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for brains. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G G Green's reliable remedies at Stormes' drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac.

The man who invented work ought to have finished it.

Ons and Bruises Quickly Healed.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald or like injury will instantly allay the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not leave a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, sprains, swellings and lameness. For sale by R E McRoberts, druggist.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

Since Jack Stormes caught that big fish, the banks of Col. Joe Arnold's pond have been lined with fishermen, and he has been compelled to stop them, as his cattle can not get to the water and his fences are kept pulled down.

Important W. C. T. U. Meeting.

THE RECORD is requested to announce an important meeting of the W. C. T. U., to be held in their rooms next Saturday afternoon. Every member is earnestly requested to be present, as matters of vast importance are to be looked after.

Moved.

I have moved my clothing samples and insurance office to Dr. Kinnaird's building, on Danville street, where I will be glad to wait on my customers. Fine line of clothing samples, fits guaranteed and prices to suit you.—J. H. Kinnaird.

A Good Idea.

Mr. Wm. Ward has placed a great quantity of the finest fish in his pond on Lexington street, and has very sensibly posted the same. A gang of negro boys watch every opportunity to fish and sein ponds, and steps should be taken to stop them. After posting it load the shot gun.

Will Move Soon.

Jim Maret and Col. Bastin, the telephone kings, tell us the local office will soon be removed over Stormes' drug store. They have been making preparations for this move for several months. It is a big job, but that is the kind this pair of gents like to tackle. What they don't know about 'phones is not worth knowing. It would not surprise us to hear that they had connection with the man in the moon.

A Card.

To the voters of the City of Lancaster: My term as Police Judge will expire January 1st, 1902. I am very thankful for past favors, and take this opportunity to announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the same office, the election to be held Nov. 5, 1901. I have nothing to offer, only my past acts as Police Judge, and if you should favor me with the office again, I will discharge my duty without fear or favor to any one, to the best of my ability. E. BROWN.

Reatus Was in Earnest.

A white preacher was conducting a religious service in a colored church in North Carolina and called on a good old colored deacon, who prayed as follows: "Oh, Lord, gib him de eye de eagle, dat he spy out sin afar off. Glue his hands to de Gospel plow. Tie his tongue to de line of truth. Nail his ear to de Gospel pole. Bow his head way down between his knees, and his knees way down some lonesome, dark and narrow valley, where prayer is much wanted to be made. 'Noint him wid de kerosine ile of salvashun and sot him on fire."

We Need More Like 'Em.

Danville News:—John M. Farra, one of the very foremost hustlers in all Garrard county's public enterprises, was in to see us yesterday. Mr. Farra is Secretary of the Commercial Club and in that capacity has done some valuable service to the county. What he and Bob Kinnaird, Lancaster's Mayor, and Louis Landrum, the editor of the Record, cannot do is hardly worth attempting. Mr. Farra tells us that a committee fifty strong will visit Louisville on Kentucky day at the State Fair, all of whom will do some tall work to get the aid of Louisville, securing better railroad facilities for Lancaster.

Fall Dress-Goods for Women.

In suitings and dress-goods the styles will closely follow those of last spring. Those most in favor are the smooth, plain-colored cloths with a satin-like finish. However, there are many remarkably handsome novelty cloths in mixed goods which will also be popular. Broadcloth still holds its place and will be used extensively. Zibeline is a comparatively new material which promises well. It is a smooth weave with a high finish, and shows tiny hairs on its surface. Chevots and tweeds make attractive tailor suits which are destined for hard wear. Panné cloth is a rich, silky material and makes a very attractive gown. Velvets and corduroys make handsome suits, and when lined with silk of contrasting color are very chic.

—Helen Louise Morris in the October Woman's Home Companion.

To Marry in October.

Knoxville Sentinel:—Informal announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Mr. Thomas P. Miller, of this city, to Miss Julia Grassley, of Chicago. The wedding, which is to occur on October 1, is to be a church affair, and very unique. The only gentleman in attendance will be the best man, while the bridesmaids will act as ushers.

Miss Grassley is a very beautiful and talented girl, being an artist of considerable ability.

Mr. Miller is well known here and has many friends in this and other cities. He holds a responsible executive position with the Quincy Carriage and Wagon works, of which he is a large stockholder. He is the son of Capt. and Mrs. W. S. Miller, and his family is one of the most highly esteemed in this city. They have here several years ago from Lancaster, Ky., where they have many relatives and friends among the leading people of Kentucky.

After a bridal tour to Buffalo, Mr. Miller will bring his bride to his home "Arbor Lodge," near Chilhowee park, where she will be gladly welcomed by his many friends.

High as a Cat's Back.

A lady entered one of our popular groceries recently, and, not being waited on right away, cast her eyes about to select something new to buy. She soon spied in the show case some very artistic tissue paper wrapping. "What can I do for you this morning?" was the polite inquiry of the clerk. "Oh," she replied, "you must have something extra wrapped in that tissue paper?" "Yes, ma'am," replied the clerk, "they are Irish potatoes, and very fine eating." And what are they worth?" The clerk screwed his courage up to the highest notch and replied, "Three for a nickel."—Fulton Leader.

Court Day.

The largest crowd that has been here for several years came in Monday, but no great amount of business was transacted. There were mule colts by the hundreds, but buyers claimed the owners wanted too much money for them, and on the other hand the sellers said the buyers wanted them to give the colts away. However, only a few were sold and the great majority were taken back home. At the pens, there were 450 cattle, steers selling at 21 to 24c, heifers brought 21 to 23c, calves sold at from $10 to $13. Some cows and calves brought $25 to $40. W. Terhune, of Harrodsburg, brought twenty mule colts at an average of $21. Babanks, of Hubble, bought about twenty-five mule colts at from $25 to $60. Fox and Logan, of Danville, bought several mule colts at from $15 to $100. W. B. Burton bought of Fish, of Wilmore, a pair of mules for $200.

Memorial Services.

The exercises at the court house, last Thursday, held in honor of the dead President, were very appropriate and interesting. There was an opening chorus, America, sung by ten pretty girls dressed in solid white. Rev. Mr. Wolford read a chapter from the bible, prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Robinson, Mrs. Ethel Beazley read an appropriate selection and addresses were delivered by Prof. Patterson, Mr. W. I. Williams and Capt. Herndon. A quartette, composed of Mesdames Belle Burnside and J. W. Sweeney, and Messrs Ward and Hemphill, furnished beautiful music. Mr. Wm. H. Wherritt presided over the meeting. The house was crowded by citizens, all of whom were delighted with the exercises. The business houses were closed from noon 'til four o'clock. The post office and banks were closed all day.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lebanon Enterprise:—Mr. Warren Russell, aged 27, died near Gravel Switch, Wednesday night, after a seven weeks illness of typhoid fever. Deceased was a promising young man. For many years he had taught school and was considered an able scholar. Three years ago he turned his attention to the study of medicine and had spent three years at the Kentucky school of medicine, Louisville. In one more year he would have finished his course. In 1895 he married Miss Anna Rains, of this city, the daughter of Capt. Wm. Rains, deceased, and a brother of Mr. James Rains, the Superintendent of the Water Works Co. Eight weeks ago, he was seized with typhoid fever, which assumed a dangerous form from the start. By his side stood his faithful wife until she was stricken down by the same terrible disease. She was moved to the home of her brother in this city and Sunday was taken to Elizabeth Hospital where she is doing fairly well. Her condition, however, is such that the death of her husband has to be kept from her. Through his illness his mother and step father, Mr. Jarvis, of Lancaster, and two brothers were by his side constantly. Two other brothers, of Decatur, Ill., will arrive this morning. Funeral will occur this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Ryder Cemetery, services by Dr. Graves. Besides his devoted wife, deceased leaves two children, four and two years of age, and a host of friends and relatives to mourn his death. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

A Liberal Proposition.

Several efforts have been made in recent years to establish a library in Lancaster, but nothing has ever come of the move. We were informed the other day that another attempt would be made, and we then heard a gentleman remark that he would be one of three men who would donate eight hundred volumes to the library, provided, as stated above, that two others would give the same number, or its equivalent. The gentleman referred to has one of the best collections of books in Garrard county, and they are all in good condition, nice bindings and late works. He says he is willing to place them in a suitable room to be selected and maintained by the town, or in any other substantial way. Here is a splendid opportunity to establish one of the most important improvements the town could possibly secure, at a trifling cost. There is no doubt but that there are many other people who have books who would cheerfully place them at the disposal of such an organization, and as for the cost of keeping some one to look after the room and keep track of the books, the City could well afford to do that, but this will have to be taken up later. The thing to do is have a meeting of those interested in the matter, select suitable committees and go at it in a business like way. The gentleman told us we could give his name to any reliable man who meant business, and he would then assist in carrying the scheme to a successful end. If there is any one interested in the matter, they will please communicate with THE RECORD office.

FARM & GARDEN

Frank Bourne sold a mule colt Monday for $90.

Sales of a lot of corn at $3.50 a barrel, and a bunch of fat hogs at $5.75 are noted by the Glasgow Times.

It is said that Fred Yeager, of the Marksbury neighborhood, has the finest crop of tobacco in the county.

W. S. Beazley bought of Alex Gibbs and L. H. Beazley, 124 cattle to be shipped to New York City at $5.37 per 100 lbs.

The Winchester Democrat says Thos. C. Robinson sold to W. M. Robb, two fine Shorthorn heifers for six hundred dollars.

R. L. Nash, owner of the three-year-old Jay Bird mare, Hawthorne, refused $8,000 for her. She is entered in the Lexington Futurity.

Alex. Gibbs recently bought of Nixon Perkins and others 75 feeders at $4.25 per 100 lbs., said to be the but of feeders in the county.

The shipment of money from the Treasury to the South and West for the movement of crops have been much heavier this season than ever before.

At the sale of Margaret A. Parks, near Paint Lick, horses brought $18 to $114; hogs $13; cows $15 to $48; old corn $3; corn in field $2.12 to $2.19. Implements brought big prices.

Auctioneer Am. Bourne reports the largest crowd Monday that has been in town for many years. Lot of aged mules changed hands, prices ranging from $60 to $125; suckling mules $20 to $60; cattle dull; plug horses from $15 to $20.

This is a banner year for peaches. The crop throughout the whole country is estimated to be about 75,000,000 bushels, and rather under than under that amount. The prolonged drought in some parts of the country has affected it somewhat, but not to any great extent.

W. S. Beazley bought and shipped from Lancaster, Thursday 19th the following lots of New York cattle to the United States Dressed Beef Company, New York City: From A. C. Robinson & Son, 75 cattle, average weight 1,485.6 at $5.37 per 100 lbs.; Leander Davidson & Son, 36 cattle average weight 1,412.6 at $5.35 per 100 lbs.

The Harrodsburg Democrat says: "W. P. Hatchett, of Mackville, sold three horses, from five to eight years old, to M. J. Farris, of Danville, at $150; also Mr. Hatchett has accepted a job with Mr. Farris as salesman at $100 per month. They will leave for Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 1, where they expect to follow trading this winter.

A practical farmer of experience and close observation says that the wheat and corn raised in the section of country visited by the extreme hot weather, will not be fit for seed and should not be used. The hot sun not only baked the life out of the wheat bloom, but the corn tassel and silk, which prevented the seed from being fertilized.

A company in Texas owning a million acres of forest land allows no less than a foot in diameter to be cut and requires the smaller trees to be carefully protected. If this sensible plan had been adopted a century ago in the north our pine forests would still be producing large quantities of marketable lumber with no prospect of extinction.

With the coming of the wheat sowing season, the ever-recurring issue of the Hessian fly pest again presents itself. In a bulletin just issued, Prof. Roberts, of Cornell University, advised all wheat farmers everywhere to sow decoy-strips of wheat around their fields. In many sections this recommendation, so simple as to appear absurd, was carried out with most surprising results.

Carlisle Mercury:—A gentleman was trying to buy five bushels of rye and was unable to get it. This caused the question to be asked why more rye wasn't raised, and some one replied that it was because the farming class had not been educated to it. After rye, he said, you can always get a good set of grass, and it is a much better fertilizer than wheat. Ground that will yield 15 bushels of rye will raise from 17 to 20 of wheat, and you can make off rye at 40 and 50 cents a bushel than you can off wheat at 70 cents on account of extra grazing; and cut up and bundled like oats, there is no better feed than rye.

Eggs may be preserved for as long as twelve months by excluding them from the air. One of the cleanest and easiest methods of doing this is to pack them with the small end downward in clean, dry salt, in barrels or tubs, and to place them in a cool and dry situation. Eggs for keeping should never be laid on their sides, and when kept in the air should be occasionally turned to prevent the yolk attaching itself to the side instead of floating in the albumen. Another way of preserving eggs is by coating them with silicate of soda.

The Advocate says a Robertson county farmer is trying an experiment in corn culture—detasselling or "topping" corn. As is generally known the tassel is the male and the silk the female part of the plant. Each alternate row is "topped" thus leaving one half to fertilize the remainder, there being sufficient pollen left for the whole. It is on the principle of "topping" tobacco—the strength that would otherwise go to support reproductive organs is kept for the growth and sustenance of the rest of the plant. It is said to increase the yield one-third.

A dispatch from Owensboro says: "Tom Jones, of Thronson, has a crop of tobacco that has puzzled him and his neighbors. He planted a field of Burley tobacco and now it is nearly half Prvor. On each stalk there is a green stripe running from the ground up on two sides of the plant. Every leaf that comes out in the green stripes is prior of the most pronounced type, while that on the other portions of the stalk is Burley, and has all the characteristics of that variety of tobacco in the most marked manner. Where the leaves start from the stalk partly in the white and partly in the green stripe they are half of one kind of tobacco and half of the other. Almost the whole of a considerable field is mixed up in this way, and Mr. Jones does not know how to class it for market.

WHY HE DECLINED THE JOB.

It Will Be Seen That He Really Couldn't Afford to Accept a Government Position.

The officers of the treasury department lately had a strange experience. A few months ago, in making a selection from one of the eligible registers of bookkeepers at the civil service commission, their attention was attracted by the most excellent papers of a young man from Atlanta, Ga., and as they were so businesslike and presented such a neat clerical appearance, he was selected and tendered a position at $600 a year. In due course of time the department received a communication stating that at that time he was so busily engaged that he very reluctantly declined the position. A few months afterward his name was again certified, and he was again selected and tendered a position at the same salary. He again, in a very courteous and businesslike letter, declined the position for business reasons, says a Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

He appeared at the proper officers, and after paying respects and thanking them for their selection, he stated that the reason he did not take the position at the times tendered was that he had a business position that was paying him $50,000 a year.

The veterans in the secretary's office speak of this case as the most unique that ever came under their observation.

Government Employees. Two federal departments disburse almost exactly the same amount in salaries, the treasury department and the interior department, in Washington, $5,000,000 each. But the treasury department has 400 more employees than the interior department, the average rate of compensation in the treasury service, in which there are many women employed, being less than in the other.

Bengal Bay. The greatest bay on the face of the earth is that of Bengal. Measured in a straight line from the two enclosing peninsulas, its extent is about 420,000 square miles, or nearly double that of Texas.

Population of Nippon. Of large islands, Nippon, the main island of Japan, has, for its size, the heaviest population. On 42,000 square miles, about half the area of Great Britain, there are 27,000,000 people.

Treat Your Horse Right. Never strike, kick or pound a balky horse. It does no good. I have seen men use violence for half a day without starting the horse. The best way is to let them stand till they are ready to go. I have never had to wait an hour yet. They soon tire of this and stop their balking. Never corner a horse in the field to catch it. I had a mare that no one could halter in the pasture except myself. I would talk to her and follow her up. Once I followed her through the bars into another lot. I approached her, talking to her all the time, until she thought she could get back to the bars, and she started. But I beat her. She stopped and I went up, talking to her, and put the halter on without any further trouble. Others had to drive her into the barn.—A. Wasson, in Ohio Farmer.

No Set Rule for Feeding. There is no rule for feeding, as each individual must be considered separately from the others. It is not an uncommon error to suppose that the animals which eat but little are the most profitable. So long as the animal is capable of digesting and assimilating food the greater the amount of food it should consume, and the more profitable the returns, especially with producers such as cows. The proportion of food required to support an animal and supply waste of tissue is less when a large amount of food is eaten than when a smaller quantity is consumed.—Troy (N. Y.) Times.

POULTRY & BEES

EXTRACTING HONEY.

This Work the Writer Considers One of the Most Pleasant Features of Beekeeping.

Extracting honey from the combs is one of the pleasant features connected with bee keeping, but is not done in the open air, as the picture would indicate. I produce my extracted honey at the out-apiaries. Large hives are used, holding 20 of such frames as I like. Sometimes they are all in one body and sometimes in two bodies, with a queen excluder between. I use three styles of hives, but only one style of frame, so there is no difficulty in changing frames. I visit my out-apiaries occasionally to see if the bees have room enough to continue storing honey.

The honey is all left on the hives until the latter part of September. By this time the bees have thoroughly ripened it and it has become so rich and thick that it takes a good right arm to swing it out of the combs. When the combs are taken from the hives they are carried to the honey house and there left until evening. After the bees have stopped flying I drive to the out-yard and haul home the honey. Before beginning to extract I take the uncapping knife and hone until the edges are keen. This will prevent tearing the combs when shaving off the cappings. The knife is occasionally dipped into a pail of hot water which expedites the work also.

Two frames of nearly equal weight are selected each time, so as to balance nicely in the extractor. The crank is turned rapidly for a minute or so and the honey whipped out of the combs. It is then drawn off at the honey gate into an agate pail with a sieve over it to catch the bits of capping which frequently get into the extractor. The honey is then poured into five-gallon cans for the wholesale trade and into some Mason jars and tumblers for retailing. Before extracting begins the combs are held up to the light and graded. The white honey is extracted first, next the amber and lastly the dark. The uncapping is done in two parts; the top section telescopes into the bottom section. The top section has a sieve bottom, which catches the cappings as they fall into the can. The honey drains into the lower section and nothing is lost or wasted. The cappings after draining for a few days are rendered into the most beautiful light yellow wax. The empty combs are set up into the honey apiary and cleaned up by the bees, then stored away until the next spring, when they are hauled to the out-yards and used there.—F. G. Herman, in Orange Judd Farmer.

CAUSED BY PARASITE.

Habit of Feather Eating in Hens Said to Be Due to a Parasitic Little Insect.

The New York experiment station published a bulletin on "feather eating" among fowls. The report makes a number of observations on this habit, suggesting that it is the result of a lack of nitrogenous matter in the feed, and citing experiments where fresh cut bone, lean meat, etc., were fed. "The vice," the report says, "is very uncommon among fowls that have exercise and a variety of feed, and it is most economical to prevent its appearance by careful feeding; but as the spread is rapid even under a ration which does not ordinarily seem to encourage its development, the vice should be stamped out by the death or removal of the first offender."

The editor of Farm and Dairy, New South Wales, calls attention to the fact of the failure to mention the true cause of "feather eating." "It is now a well-known fact," says the editor, "that feather eating is due to a minute parasite (sarcoptes) which feeds at the roots of the feathers, thus irritating the birds and causing them to pluck out their own feathers. Where feathers are pulled out by other birds, it is due to the presence of lice, for which they are searching."

The prevention and remedy, says the editor, are simple, as the mite disease is contagious (through copulation) isolation of the affected bird is the first step, especially if it be a cock. The mite yields readily to treatment of one part of creosote to 20 parts of lard or vaseline, well rubbed into the affected parts.

The arrival of the first cattle in this country is thus recorded in Gov. Bradford's history of Plymouth colony: "By this ship also came three heifers and a bull, the first of any cattle of that kind in ye land." This was in 1624.

MOISTENING THE EGGS.

The Pros and Cons of a Poultry Problem That Has Arouned General Attention.

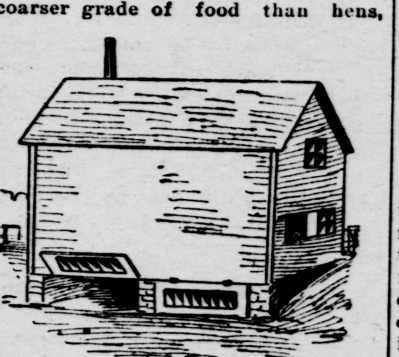

We believe that as a rule sprinkling the eggs with warm water which are being incubated by the sitting hen is productive of harm rather than good. If the hen is free to leave the nest as she wills and is not debarrred from a run in the grass during her short respite from her duties, she will return to the nest with feathers laden with dew, and the eggs will not suffer for moisture, says Wallace's Farmer. In our early experience we regularly sprinkled the eggs the third day before the hatch was due. We had result about the same as if we had not, and with a good deal of sound advice which they gave us, we gave undue weight to several articles which got the advantage of our callowness and made us believe that sprinkling the eggs was of prime importance. While still believing that under certain conditions it is attended with advantage it is only occasionally that we revert to the practice. During the late dry spell it occurred to us that something might be gained by returning to it. We had six hens engaged in hatching us out some late chicks. The eggs were due to hatch on the 15th of July. On the 12th we removed the eggs from four of the nests, and after dampening the earth upon which the nest was built, put them back. We did not apply any moisture to the other two nests. The result justified the belief that under such circumstances as these the application of moisture is attended with advantage. From the four nests we took 38 chicks and from the other two only five chicks. The eggs were the same, and the hens were all about equally attentive to their duties. The exceptional dryness of the air and the absence of dew demanded a change from the usual order of things, and we are well convinced that we are well paid for the time it took to moisten those eggs. But we have sprinkled lots of eggs without gaining anything by it.

QUARTERS FOR DUCKS.

Comfortable Place Can Be Fixed for Them Under a Barn, Workshop or Other Building.

Where the chances permit, it is a question if ducks are not more profitable to keep as layers than hens. Certainly so as regards the Peking duck, which lays almost every day after it begins; and ducks' eggs are almost larger than hens' eggs, seldom dropping much, if any, below 30 or 35 cents a dozen. There is also an advantage in feeding. Ducks can be fed a coarser grade of food than hens, and the growth of a young duck is something phenomenal; it grows with amazing rapidity for a dozen weeks or so, when it should be marketed, if not to be kept as laying stock. Ducks, however, cannot very well be kept in the poultry house, nor in the barn or other buildings, since they are never tidy housekeepers. Nevertheless, they need a comfortable place—a place by themselves—for then they will yield a good profit and without inconvenience to the owner. A space even only a few feet high will suffice, which can often be provided under a barn, workshop or other building as suggested in the accompanying picture; and such quarters can easily be cleaned out with a hoe or rake, and a new litter thrown in. This low pen will be warm in winter, and so conducive to early laying; while on the other hand, it will prove a very cool spot during the heat of summer, being thus conducive to continuous laying.—Fred O. Sibley, in Ohio Farmer.

AMONG THE POULTRY.

Dry road-dust is needed in that poultry-house of yours.

Nests should be so arranged that the hen will not have to jump down upon the eggs.

"When the rooster crows in the door"—it's a sign the yard-fence needs attention.

Chicken cholera, also silt and lice, is abroad in the land again. Do not harbor such a villain.

Never give your chickens sloppy food, but always make it so it will crumble when thrown on the feed board or trough.

Get 15 cents' worth of crude petroleum and ten cents' worth of carbolic acid, mix well, and you have for 25 cents enough lice killer to paint all the roosts, nest boxes, etc., on the place.

Buying a thoroughbred male is the first step toward improving your flock. By so doing you buy judgment in the flock in a breeding sense, and next to buying an entire pen this is the best thing to do.

A good and inexpensive drinking fountain for chicks is made by placing a saucer over a quart tin can of water and by quickly inverting them a drinking fountain fit for the best in the land. Place a small stick between the can and the saucer—this keeps up the supply of water.—Midland Farmer.

REARING AND BUYING.

Greatest Profit Result When a Farmer Can Produce Both Grain and Feeding Stock.

Whether it is better to rear feeding stock that is required on the farm or depend on the western ranges for this class of stock is a subject of more or less discussion among those following the business of feeding cattle. The majority of our feeders favor the plan of rearing their own feeding stock, but under some conditions this means more expense than if they had been secured from the ranges. Hon. John Cowie, in speaking of the fattening of cattle before the Iowa state farmers' institute, advanced the following ideas, taken from the Iowa year-book of agriculture, regarding this important question, says Iowa Homestead: I am aware that it is difficult to secure well-bred feeders, of the right age and size for feeding, at a price that insures profit on the finished animal, but if they cannot be bought they can be raised, and then of the profit there is no question. By using high-grade cows of any of the leading herds

Scrofula THE OFFSPRING OF HEREDITARY BLOOD TAIN.

Scrofula is but a modified form of Blood Poison and Consumption. The parent who is tainted by either will see in the child the same disease.

Scrofula is but a modified form of Blood Poison and Consumption. The parent who is tainted by either will see in the child the same disease. It manifests itself in the form of swollen glands of the neck and throat, catarrh, weak eyes, offensive sores and abscesses and ofentimes white swelling—sure signs of Scrofula. There may be no external signs for a long time, for the disease develops slowly in some cases, but the poison is in the blood and will break out at the first favorable opportunity. S. S. S. cures this wasting, destructive disease by first purifying the blood and then stimulating and invigorating the whole system.

J. M. Seal, 115 Public Square, Nashville, Tenn., says: "Ten years ago my daughter fell and cut her forehead. From this wound the glands on the side of her face became swollen and burst, attended her without any benefit. We decided to try S. S. S., and a few bottles cured her entirely."

S. S. S. makes new and pure blood to nourish and strengthen the body, and is a positive and certain cure for Scrofula. It overcomes all forms of blood poison, whether inherited or acquired, and not only cleanses the blood, but it also cures the blood in good condition and prevents the disease developing again.

ALFALFA STACK COVER. One That Is Said to Be Equal to Storing the Hay in a Barn or Ordinary Mow.

Alfalfa hay will not turn the rain, no matter how well topped out a stack may be. Where alfalfa hay is raised extensively it is necessary to cover the stacks in some way, or to top them out with some kind of hay or grass that will shed the rain. We recently saw a stack cover used on an alfalfa farm which the owner said was equal in keeping the hay to storing in a barn or mow.

The covers are made of ten-inch boards in sections six, eight, ten or twelve feet long, as suits the purpose and convenience. The boards are laid, beginning at the top of the stack, so that the top overlaps the one just below, and all are held in place by being stapled to pieces of No. 12 smooth wire, one wire within a few inches of the ends of the boards and as many between as may be thought necessary. With the shorter sections the wires go on the outside of the boards and are left long enough at the four corners to fasten on a weight to keep the cover in place. The use of weights makes the better taking down, as the setting of the stacks will not cause the roof to become less solidly in place. Painting the boards will preserve them, and by a little persuasion and the dry or laid on logs to keep from getting damp when not in use, they will last for years. In taking down a stack, but one section need be removed at a time, thus exposing but a small portion of the stack. In getting the stack ready for putting on the cover, do not top out with a high center, but put on only a well-rounded top.—J. L. Irwin, in Ohio Farmer.

Turning Pigs Into Pasture. Harvey Johnson, of Iowa, says: When our litters are of sufficient age to turn out we usually put two and sometimes three litters together in a pasture where there is a good warm and dry building and plenty of good grass. Near where the sows feed is a small inclosure with a low trough in it, and by a little persuasion and some tempting bits of food we expect to have the pigs feeding nicely at three to four weeks of age. The feed is increased as their capacity for handling it is increased, but we are careful to underfeed rather than overfeed—feeding no more at any time than they will eat clean. We allow them to run with the dams till they wean them, unless we wish to breed the sows again.

Keep the Colts Growing. If the pasture is not what it should be the colts should have a feed of oats daily. A few bushels of oats fed to a well-bred yearling when the pasture gets old and the flies bad will be well invested. A great many horses are stunted their first winter, and a great many do not get a chance to make it up their second summer—their first summer away from their dams. Keep them growing—the buyer wants good-sized ones.—Nation

DAVIDSON & LANDRAM. Real Estate Agents.

— LANCASTER, KY. —
